THIS WEEK AT BEARNO'S

Lots of news this week: Two of our boys will be missing at Bearno's: leader Doug Finke, off once again to serenade the Pacific Northwest, and clarinetist Dave Klingman, abducted by a gaggle of grandchildren to celebrate his birthday. Mike Smith and Lou Vernon substitute... Jazz Week has been launched at the University of Louisville! Performances beckon nightly at Comstock Hall and elsewhere. This weekend sees performances by Valery Ponomarev, Houston Person and the great harmonica master Toots Thielemans (87 years young). See the schedule here...Doug and the Stompers hope to see you on Sunday, March 7th, the inaugural week of the new "Jazz on the Green" series at Wildwood Country Club. Those who attended the Bootleggers Ball are well-familiar with the accommodating spirit at Wildwood and will surely want to get another dose of that special attention. This is "da place" for followers of Louisville's classic jazz bands, all of which represent the musically fertile first half of the 20th century — the Golden Age of popular song and the incredible evolution of jazz as music...Later in the day on March 7th: the Louisville Jazz Society hosts its "Rent Party" fundraiser at River City Winery in New Albany. A score of musicians from Louisville's more modern stable gather to play in a easy-going concert atmosphere. Donations at your discretion. See you Friday!

You've got to learn your instrument. Then, you practice, practice, practice. And then, when you finally get up there on the bandstand, forget all that and just wail.
